Massages

At the heart of the treatment philosophy, our massages reinterpret the most effective Western and Eastern techniques and combines them in a symphony of sounds and fragrances. Choose between our proposals, reactivate your vitality and take a sublime journey away from the stress which causes tension in your face and your body.

Imaret Signature Body Treatment

Each part of the body needs a different approach. Other zones need a beneficial, relaxing touch while others need strong therapeutic movements. We have created a combination of Swedish, Balinese, Lomi-Lomi, Thai and athletic massage that is perfectly tailored to meet your body's needs. At 90 minutes long, the massage gives the therapist the opportunity to take care of your entire body in detail, emphasizing and focusing on the area that requires the most attention and care. For us Imaret's signature body treatment is a journey of self-discovery through a holistic healing practice.

Thai Massage

Thai massage is a traditional healing practice that has been in use for over 2,500 years. Its roots can be traced back to India from where it arrived in Thailand through Buddhist monks. Since then it has been an integral part of Thai wellness practice. The treatment is conducted on a mat placed on the floor and loose clothing for the utmost comfort.

The ancient THAI massage method is based on the 10 key "energy lines" (sen sib) which run through our body. Any blockage in these lines affects the body's energy flow causing a problem in its smooth and proper functioning. Direct pressure on specific points reminiscent of Chinese acupuncture and yoga-like stretching techniques, offer multiple benefits for the body and mind by improving circulation, increasing flexibility and relieving muscle tension and pain. They strengthen the immune system and digestion. On a mental and emotional level, Thai massage can help improve sleep, reduce stress and anxiety, enhance concentration and clarity, and encourage a sense of calm and relaxation.

Relaxing Massage

Aromatic and invigorating the soothing and relaxing massage of our program uses soft to medium pressure techniques in combination with Swedish style and aromatherapy massage techniques to reduce tension, relive aching muscles and reduce stress. You will feel body and mind in balance and harmony.

90min - €180p.p.
